Across the street from the McAlpin are the world's largest department stores. The famous Empire State Building is in the same square. Fifth Avenue and its smart shops are but one block away. Pennsylvania Station is one block West. Grand Central Terminal is little more than 5 minutes' walk. Wall Street is 15 minutes by subway . . . (station is "outside the doors" of the McAlpin) . . . Motor coaches of the B & O R.R. . . the Holland-American S.S. Line . . . the American Export Line . . . all stop at the McAlpin. Hudson Tubes Terminal is just across the street. Times Square (theatre district) is 6 minutes' walk up Broadway.

The smart, air-conditioned Café adjoining the Horseshoe Bar indicates the spirit of the McAlpin—always a step ahead with modern atmosphere and equipment.

The Marine Grill Room, also air-conditioned, is a popular rendezvous for dining and dancing. Open for luncheon, dinner and after-theatre supper.
